Ewell Court House

A History

Ewell Court House with its fascinating past offers the perfect retreat from the hustle and bustle of everyday life. Set in beautiful, historical grounds complete with fountains, cascades, rock pools and its own secret Grotto, the Grade II listed house stands proud at the entrance to the extensive parkland.

Its colourful history dates back to the late 1730s when Alexander Bridges moved into the original building on the land, Avenue House. In 1754 he applied to Parliament to use the ancient Hogsmill River to power the gunpowder mills. This move made his fortune which was passed down through his family until the mills were closed under the Explosives Act in 1875.

Testimonials

We had our wedding at what felt the perfect place. Not only because of the setting of the house and the beautiful décor and history within, but also because of the welcoming service we received on the visits to the house leading up to the wedding. We and our guests thoroughly enjoyed the day. Thank you!

Thank you for the support you gave us for our wedding reception. Ewell Court House is a lovely venue and we had a wonderful day. You met all our needs and helped us with all we asked, for which we are grateful.

A huge thank you for all your help and patience. Everything went smoothly (as you promised it would!) and we appreciate everything you did to make our day so special. We had a wonderful time and Ewell Court House now holds a special place in our hearts. We would not hesitate to recommend it.

Thank you very much for all your help. We had the perfect day. Ewell Court House was a fantastic venue and the grounds are beautiful.

Just to reiterate our thanks for the excellent service. All of the guests that we spoke to were ringing the praises of both the physical aspects, layout and ambience provided at Ewell Court House and, just as importantly, the excellent service provided by you. We would be very happy to recommend Ewell Court House to potential customers. Thanks again.
