About the park

Long Grove park has a skate park designed and built by Wheelscapes in 2013. This has recently been extended to include a beginner's section which has proven quite popular with skaters. The park is dog-friendly and has an established playground area.

History

When the old Horton Hospital site was developed to create the new estate, Livingstone Park, the Hospital's old sports ground was developed into Long Grove Park. In the proposed plan a corner of the land was to be used as a primary school (now Southfield Park Primary School). Cherryfield Nursery is also situated on the land. The atmosphere was to be that of a landscaped park rather than a recreation ground.
