About the park Recreation ground situated in the South of the borough close to Epsom Downs. A quiet secluded park with a children's playground and outdoor gym

History

The site of the Warren Recreation Ground was enclosed from the surrounding Downs many years ago. It appears on maps as early as 1768 as part of a hare warren, and may have been established by the Earl of Berkeley when he was living nearby at Durdans. In June 1926 the Warren was purchased by the Urban District for use as a recreation ground.
